

Company Officer Leadership Symposium (COLS 2)

Join with the IAFC Foundation, the Southwestern Ohio Fire Chiefs Association and county chiefs' associations across southern Ohio and northern Kentucky as we host the IAFC's Company Officer Leadership Symposium, Level 2 (COLS 2) on May 15-17, 2018. This training is offered at no cost to members of your department through the generous support of the International Association of Fire Chiefs Foundation, Motorola Solutions Foundation, and Southwestern Ohio Fire Chief's Association.

The COLS program provides company officers with specific leadership training geared toward their department responsibilities. This comprehensive program has set learning objectives, many of which meet the JPRs outlined in NFPA 1021 and the IAFC Officer Development Handbook.

COLS-2 is the second level of the program, providing company officers the essential skills to transition into a leadership role. Participants leave with tools and resources to be successful as a leader in their department and move their organization forward.

NOTE: There is no prerequisite for this course; however, this is the follow-on course for COLS 1.

Attendees must attend all sessions and all days of the program to receive credit.
