Publications Committee Report to the OFCA Board of Directors

The Publications Committee continues to strive to provide our membership with timely information regarding issues facing today's fire service, as is evidenced within our produced issues of InCommand.

We encourage anyone who is interested to join the Publications Committee. We meet regularly throughout the year to exchange ideas, establish themes, make assignments, discuss articles, etc. Our meetings are held in advance of editorial deadlines to allow committee members enough time to brainstorm ideas and engage in lively discussion. We meet via Zoom, and then try to have one in-person meeting. If you are interested in the Publications Committee, you do not have to write an article, we would be happy with your expertise on the subject matter and connections to those who could write articles for the magazine.

If you would like to join the Publications Committee, or if you have a particular topic/issue that you would like us to address, please contact the Publications Committee Chair, Captain Chris Menapace at ChristopherMenapace@coshoctoncounty.net or Anne Beauch at abeauch@ohiofirechiefs.org.

Lastly, we would like to thank our committee members for their hard work and dedication to the committee and InCommand magazine. Their efforts in tackling the latest thinking and current issues in the fire service make InCommand one of the country's best fire organization membership publications.
